

KI in der Anwendung

Strategie und Roadmap
Eidosmedia

EIDOSMEDIA

KI in der Anwendung

- Anregungen und Ideen von Kunden und aus Produktmanagement und Entwicklung von Eidosmedia
- Verbesserung der Prozesse durch KI
 - Create
 - Discover
 - Distribute

Create

KI-Unterstützung bei der
Inhaltserstellung

EIDOSMEDIA

The screenshot displays a web editor interface. The top navigation bar includes 'HOME', 'INSERT', 'DOCUMENT', 'VIEW', 'REVIEW', and 'DEBUG'. The document title is 'Ofgem energy price cap falls to £2,074 but households will see little relief'. The main content area features a landscape image of a person's hand holding a smartphone, with a caption 'Landscape / 1024x576' and fields for 'Caption' and 'Credit'. Below the image is the main headline: 'Ofgem energy price cap falls to £2,074 but households will see little relief'. The sub-headline reads: 'Consumers still paying almost twice as much for gas and electricity as in October 2021 despite cut by regulator'. The author is listed as 'Omar Gazarin'. The article text begins with: 'Great Britain's energy price cap has fallen to £2,074 a year, but the average household will still pay almost double the rate for their gas and electricity than before costs started to soar. About 27m households can expect a modest drop in energy bills this summer after the regulator Ofgem lowered the cap on the typical annual dual-fuel tariff to reflect a steep drop in global energy prices over recent months. From July, when the change takes effect, households will see their average gas and electricity bill fall from the £2,500 a year level set by the government's energy price'. On the right side, there is a metadata panel with tabs for 'General', 'Classification', 'Information', and 'Keywords'. The 'Keywords' tab is active, showing categories like 'Places', 'People', 'Companies', and 'Keywords' with associated tags such as 'Great Britain', 'Russia', 'Europe', 'Ukraine', 'Gillian Cooper', 'Jonathan Brearley', 'Simon Francis', 'Jeremy Hunt', 'Georgia Whitaker', 'Ofgem', 'Centrica', 'British Gas', 'Citizens Advice', 'End Fuel Poverty Coalition', 'Ofgem', 'energy price cap', 'households', 'gas and electricity', and 'global energy prices'. A 'Publish' button is visible at the bottom of the panel.

year for gas and electricity.)

-0.5 Households could still face dual-fuel bills above £2,074 if they use more than the typical amount of energy because Ofgem’s cap limits the rate energy suppliers can charge customers for each unit of gas and electricity – not the total bill.)

-0.7 The cap does not offer help to businesses, charities or public sector organisations such as schools, hospitals and care homes.)

o A scheme brought in by the government at the start of April offers eligible businesses a discount on the wholesale price of energy, offering a total of up to £5.5bn of support over a year, far less than the estimated £18bn over six months given out under the previous aid package.)

0.5 Jonathan Brearley, the chief executive of Ofgem, said that after a difficult winter for consumers it was encouraging to see that “prices are moving in the right direction”.)

-0.9 “However, we know people are still finding it hard, the cost of living crisis continues and these bills will still be troubling many people up and down the country.)

0.2 Where people are struggling, we urge them to contact their supplier who will be able to offer a range of support, such as payment plans or access to hardship funds.”)

-0.3 Brearley added that households were “unlikely to see prices return to the levels we saw before the energy crisis” in the medium term and called on the government to work with Ofgem, consumer groups and the wider industry to help support vulnerable groups.)

-0.5 Simon Francis, a coordinator at the End Fuel Poverty Coalition, said: “The sting in the tail to this announcement is that customers are still going to be paying roughly the same for Sentiment A...

Headline Summary Text

13.1 Sentiment Analysis 30 Sentences 😊 1 😐 10 😞 19

😞 -0.6
Great Britain's energy price cap has fallen to £2,074 a year, but the average household will still pay almost double the rate for their gas and electricity than before costs started to soar.

😐 -0.2
About 27m households can expect a modest drop in energy bills this summer after the regulator Ofgem lowered the cap on the typical annual dual-fuel tariff to reflect a steep drop in global energy prices over recent months.

😞 -0.3
From July, when the change takes effect, households will see their average gas and electricity bill fall from the £2,500 a year level set by the government's energy price guarantee.

😞 -0.6
However, those who struggled to pay their bills over the winter will feel little relief, because government top-ups worth £400 between October to March have come to an end.

Discover

KI-Unterstützung bei der
Erschließung von Inhalten

EIDOSMEDIA

Landscape / 1024x576

Caption

Credit

Ofgem energy price cap falls to £2,074 but households will see little relief

Consumers still paying almost twice as much for gas and electricity as in October 2021 despite cut by regulator

Omar Gazarin

Great Britain's energy price cap has fallen to £2,074 a year, but the average household will still pay almost double the rate for their gas and electricity than before costs started to soar.

About 27m households can expect a modest drop in energy bills this summer after the regulator Ofgem lowered the cap on the typical annual dual-fuel tariff to reflect a steep drop in global energy prices over recent months.

From July, when the change takes effect, households will see their average gas and Suggestion ...

Search

Article Images

Energy bills could fall to average of £2,053 as Ofgem prepares to lower cap
0.8842 money

Household energy bills could fall to an average of £2,053 a year this summer as the regulator prepares to lower its cap on energy prices next week, according to analysts. However, campaigners have warned that the lower

Ovo and Good Energy ordered to pay £4m compensation after overcharging
0.8453 money

Ovo Energy and Good Energy have been ordered to pay £4m after overcharging thousands of households on their gas and electricity bills by breaching the government's energy price cap. The affected households will

UK households with communal heating facing 350% rise in energy costs
0.8386 society

Residents in council homes and private flats with communal heating systems are experiencing a "nightmare" rise in their energy bills, with households scrambling to fund increases of up to 350%. An estimated 480,000

Lambeth council tenants 'in precarious position' after 350% service charge rise
0.8254 society

Peter Shapcott is sitting in his council flat in Brixton, south London. As he examines the bills that have come

Integration in Artikel

ABOUT 27m households can expect a modest drop in energy bills this summer after the regulator Ofgem lowered the cap on the typical annual dual-fuel tariff to reflect a steep drop in global energy prices over recent months.

From July, when the change takes effect, households will see their average gas and electricity bill fall from the £2,500 a year level set by the government's energy price guarantee. However, those who struggled to pay their bills over the winter will feel little relief, because government top-ups worth £400 between October to March have come to an end.

Households also face being charged an extra £10 a year on their energy bills from October to bolster the profits of their energy provider, under plans put forward by the regulator alongside the new cap.

Insert links

Extra links headline

 Energy bills could fall to average of £2,053 as Ofgem prepares...	 Ovo and Good Energy ordered to pay £4m compensation after
---	---

Ofgem has justified increasing the amount of profit suppliers can make from 1.9% to 2.4% because this would prevent them going bust, and the cost of bailing out a failed supplier would be higher. Under the plan, annual supplier profits would climb from £37 a household to £47.

The plan to bolster energy company profits sparked one of the biggest share price rises of the day for the owner of British Gas. Shares in Centrica climbed by about 2% after analysts

Suggestion ...

Search

Article Images

Energy bills could fall to average of £2,053 as Ofgem prepares to lower cap
0.8843 money
Household energy bills could fall to an average of £2,053 a year this summer as the regulator prepares to lower its cap on energy prices next week, according to analysts. However, campaigners have warned that the lower Add

Ovo and Good Energy ordered to pay £4m compensation after overcharging
0.8453 money
Ovo Energy and Good Energy have been ordered to pay £4m after overcharging thousands of households on their gas and electricity bills by breaching the government's energy price cap. The affected households will Add

UK households with communal heating facing 350% rise in energy costs
0.8386 society
Residents in council homes and private flats with communal heating systems are experiencing a "nightmare" rise in their energy bills, with households scrambling to fund increases of up to 350%. An estimated 480,000 Add

Lambeth council tenants 'in precarious position' after 350% service charge rise
0.8255 society
Peter Shapcott is sitting in his council flat in Brixton, south London. As he examines the bills that have come

Available crops: Landscape / Square / Rectangle

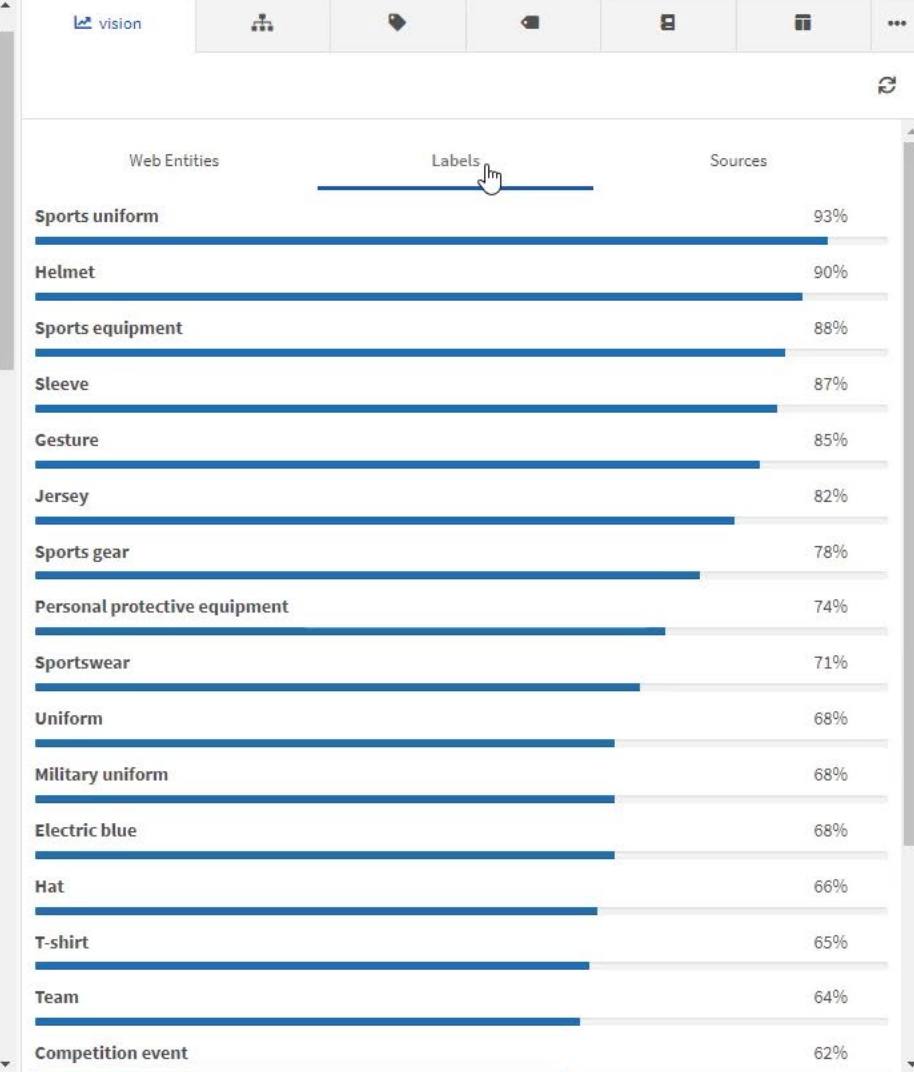

Landscape / 1024x576

Caption

Credit

Lewis Hamilton and Mercedes close to agreeing a new contract

Lewis Hamilton says he has not been in talks with Ferrari and he and Mercedes are close to agreeing a new contract to keep him at the team beyond this season.

Edit image Edit Collage

Original

Landscape

Square

Rectangle

3 selected

Select all

hamilton3.jpg

Create hard crop

Show focal point

Restore

ORIGINAL IMAGE (ALL CROPS)

Cancel

Save

Distribution

KI-Unterstützung bei der
Publikation von Inhalten

EIDOSMEDIA

Definition des Themas

The screenshot shows a web editor interface with a 'Customize Item' dialog box open. The dialog box has a 'Default' tab and the following fields:

- Topic: Flood In Italy
- Variety: low

At the bottom of the dialog box, there are three buttons: 'Enable A/B Testing', 'Ok', and 'Cancel'. A mouse cursor is pointing at the 'Ok' button.

The background interface shows a workspace with several widgets, including 'section-query', 'Automatic section query', 'smart-query', and 'weather-widget'. The top bar includes 'DWP', 'CUSTOM ACTIONS', and 'DEBUG' tabs, along with various icons and a search bar. The bottom status bar shows the current page path: '.../Pages/globe-main_world.dwp * [modified]' and the 'Editorial' role.

MAIN • 2/50

section-query

Automatic section query

05/03/2022 COBALTQUERY --- NONE ---

smart-query

Retrieve relevant content using a natural language query

15/05/2023 COBALTWIDGET --- NONE ---

+

Site: The Globe

president's 10-point peace plan.

Flood In Italy

Death toll mounts in Italy's worst flooding for 100 years

Devastating floods in Italy claim lives and leave thousands homeless

Twenty-one rivers burst their banks after heavy storms across country cause landslides and submerge villages

Italy's disasters suggest the

Chat GPT

Panel-Integration

EIDOSMEDIA

Artikel-Zusammenfassung

Lewis Hamilton and Mercedes close to agreeing a new contract

HOME INSERT DOCUMENT VIEW REVIEW DEBUG

Web --- None --- B I U Tt Styles Strike out Delete section

Cobalt Preview Preview

ChatGPT

"You know perfectly that at this stage of the season each week you will have a different story and we are not sending an offer to Lewis Hamilton. We didn't do it." "We didn't have discussions. I think every single team on the grid would like to have Hamilton at one stage - it would be rubbish to not say something like this." "Vasseur said it was too early for Ferrari to start negotiating with their drivers Charles Leclerc and Carlos Sainz over their futures. Both are contracted until the end of 2024." "The most important (thing) for us is to stay focused on the development in the current season," Vasseur said. "In a couple of months, we'll have the slot to discuss about the future." "We agreed that we'll discuss about the contracts later on and I don't want to change because we had rumours from someone that Lewis could come or Charles could go or Carlos could go. We are dealing with our jobs internally and I will stay focused on the plan."

Hamilton's contract with the Mercedes team is set to expire at the end of the current season. There have been rumors that Ferrari has contacted Hamilton about a potential switch to the Italian team, but both Hamilton and Ferrari have denied this. Hamilton has a team working with Mercedes team principal Toto Wolff on a new contract, and they are almost at the point of having a contract ready. Mercedes' struggles to be competitive since 2022 do not affect Hamilton's desire to stay with the team. Ferrari is not yet negotiating with their current drivers over their futures, and team principal Frederic Vasseur wants to stay focused on the current season's development.

Append answer Replace text with answer

SUMMARIZE TEXT MAKE A SOCIAL POST COMPLETE SENTENCE ANALYZE SENTIMENT GENERATE BULLET POINTS FREE REQUEST

Write here your user query. (Press Enter for new line)

EXTRA-WEB AREA
Extra web content

my team is working closely behind the scenes with Toto and we are almost at the point of having a contract ready. It is much more relaxing now because before I was doing it myself.”

Asked directly whether Ferrari had been in touch, Hamilton said: “No.”

Ferrari team principal Frederic Vasseur said: “You know perfectly that at this stage of the season each week you will have a different story and we are not sending an offer to Lewis Hamilton. We didn’t do it.”

Key takeaways

- 1. Lewis Hamilton and Mercedes are close to agreeing a new contract.
- 2. Hamilton denies talks with Ferrari and says he has a team working with Mercedes team principal Toto Wolff on the new contract.
- 3. Hamilton's current contract with Mercedes runs out at the end of this season.
- 4. Ferrari team principal Frederic Vasseur denies sending an offer to Hamilton and says it's too early to negotiate with their drivers.
- 5. Vasseur says Ferrari is focused on the development in the current season and will discuss contracts later on.

“We didn’t have discussions. I think every single team on the grid would like to have denied this. Hamilton has a team working with Mercedes team principal Toto Wolff on a new contract, and they are almost at the point of having a contract ready. Mercedes' struggles to be competitive since 2022 do not affect Hamilton's desire to stay with the team. Ferrari is not yet negotiating with their current drivers over their futures, and team principal Frederic Vasseur wants to stay focused on the current season's development.

ChatGPT

Append answer | Replace text with answer

Bullet Points | Summarize the article in five bullet points

1. Lewis Hamilton and Mercedes are close to agreeing a new contract.
 2. Hamilton denies talks with Ferrari and says he has a team working with Mercedes team principal Toto Wolff on the new contract.
 3. Hamilton's current contract with Mercedes runs out at the end of this season.
 4. Ferrari team principal Frederic Vasseur denies sending an offer to Hamilton and says it's too early to negotiate with their drivers.
 5. Vasseur says Ferrari is focused on the development in the current season and will discuss contracts later on.

Add to story

SUMMARIZE TEXT | MAKE A SOCIAL POST | COMPLETE SENTENCE | ANALYZE SENTIMENT | GENERATE BULLET POINTS | FREE REQUEST

Write here your user query. (Press Enter for new line)

Stock Report | NASDAQ Symbol: META

META - Improving Business And Still A Buy

SERVICES-COMPUTER PROGRAMMING, DATA PROCESSING, ETC.

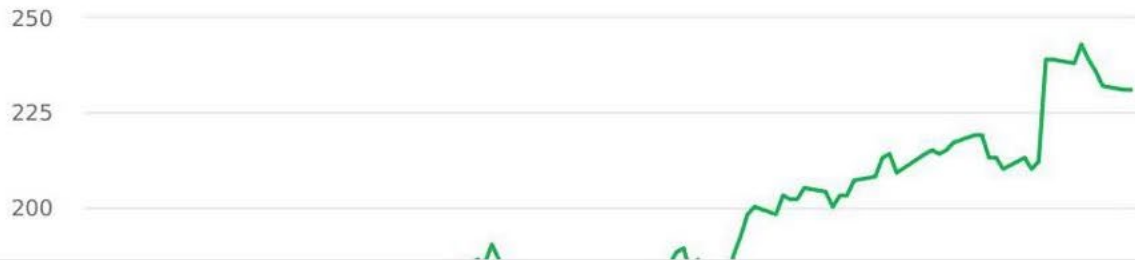

Meta reported solid first quarter results with revenue growing again and the company beating expectations for revenue as well as earnings per share.

Company Description

Investment Highlight

Meta Platforms, Inc. develops products that enable people to connect and share with friends and family through mobile devices, PCs, virtual reality headsets, wearables and home devices around the world. The company is headquartered in Menlo Park, California.

Stock Performance

Social Preview

TwitterDev @TwitterDev
'Breaking news! Meta just announced their Q1 results and they are looking solid! Revenue growth is up and the company has surpassed expectations for both revenue and earnings per share. Exciting times ahead for Meta and its investors! #Meta #Q1Results #RevenueGrowth #EarningsPerShare'

Globe Reports • Follow Europe

Jörg Drees

Direktor Marketing und Business Development

Eidosmedia GmbH

Voltastraße 31

60486 Frankfurt am Main

Telefon +49 69 260 106 457

Mobil +49 177 8921966